Patton Sweeps

By GLADWIN HILL

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, Aug. 17 (AP) — American patrols approached Paris today in the spearheads of smashing U. S. Third Army gains toppling four key cities in an arc only 40 to 65 miles from the Nazi-ridden French capital.

Advance units of Lt. Gen. Patton's armored columns were less than 40 miles from Paris and were meeting negligible resistance.

His Third Army avalanche captured Dreux, Chartres, Chateaudun and Orleans.

Dreux is 40 miles due west of Paris. Chartres is 20 miles south of Dreux. Orleans is 65 miles below the capital.

One column crossed the Eure river, presumably near Dreux, and then pounded on toward Paris.

Canadian infantry and tanks captured Falaise today and pushed

1000 yards south, field dispatches said, narrowing the pincers to seven miles even as the American First Army chopped off the entire western end of the pocket.

(One German broadcast asserted the Canadians had crossed the Dives river, which runs five miles east of Falaise, in a southeastern drive. Nazi broadcasts admitted possibility of new Allied eastward drive might trap Germans against the Seine or the channel.)

Surviving elements of the German Seventh army are milling around in "complete disorganization" both inside the trap and in the area eastward to the Seine, a British staff officer declared.

To hamper Allied air attacks, the Germans are sandwiching French refugees in army columns fleeing the Falaise trap, Allied fliers reported.

The escape of the bulk of Field Marshal von Kluge's armor already has been conceded, leaving only remnants of possibly 14 enemy divisions—some stripped to the bone—still caught west of the Falaise-Argentan escape hatch.

Associated Press Correspondent Roger D. Greene reported "high British officers reflected tranquility over the situation, and intimated Allied high strategy has even greater blows in store for the enemy."

In Brittany, the siege of St. Malo went into its tenth day and the Germans conceded their stand in the rock-bound citadel there was "drawing to an end." Pockets of German resistance still are being mopped up on their peninsula.

ROME, Ag. 17 (AP)—Allied troops have punched out a solid front 50 miles broad and 30 miles deep along the coast of Southern France, Maj. Gen. Alexander M. Patch's Seventh Army headquarters announced today.

On the west the invasion forces drove within 10 miles of the naval base of Toulon. On the east they were within 10 miles of Cannes. The invaders, spearheaded by three veteran American divisions and supported by heavily armored French forces, seized an area of approximately 500 square miles.

(The German communique said the Allies already had penetrated Cannes. German broadcasts reported air-borne troops had landed northwest of Cannes and entered the town after bloody fighting.)

Riviera

Headquarters listed nine other towns in Allied hands—the coastal towns of St. Tropez, Ste. Maxime, St. Raphael, Frejus and Le Lavandou, and the inland communities of Le Muy, Le Luc, Lorgues and Collobrieres.

Lorgues, farthest inland, is 27 miles from the coast at Cap Camarat near St. Tropez, center of the beachhead front.

"The swift advance of American and French troops inland continues and numerous additional villages and towns have been taken," Patch announced.

"All elements of the beachhead forces have been joined to form a continuous front arching inland with anchor points over 50 airline miles apart.

"Junction with strong air-borne units, dropped far behind enemy lines before dawn on D-Day, has been effected.

"French and American reinforcements, including armor, are pouring ashore. Casualties continue exceptionally light."

The junction of assault infantry which landed from the sea and the huge air-borne force indicated the Allies had reached inland communication arteries which parachute troops had been assigned to block, and that these henceforth would be available for the swift funneling of men and supplies into the rugged Alps of Provence in the drive northward.

American infantry previously linked up with French Commandos who had landed on the flanks of the main invading force to block side avenues to the beachheads.

It thus was evident the Allies within 48 hours after their landing had achieved an astonishing success in seizing the primary requisites for a large scale operation.

With tanks and mighty M-10 tank destroyers ashore it was also evident that Patch was in a position to weather the greatest danger ahead—the period in the first 72 hours when the enemy might mass armored reserves to make a counter attack.

But so far there was little evi-

AT GERMAN FRONTIER, Aug. 17 (AP)—Nazi Gestapo Chief Himmler has established a new secret service to make daily reports on all important German civil officials, it was reported today through trustworthy channels.

Paris Now in Turmoil; French Revolt Grows

LONDON, Aug. 17 (AP)—Paris is now a "front line city." The thunder of approaching American guns can be heard in the city, the German radio said today.

The German report pictured the French capital as a city of chaos without food, transportation or police. The gendarmes were said to be striking.

"The churches are overcrowded and special prayers are being said at Notre Dame," said a Transocean (propaganda) Agency broadcast from Berlin.

The food shortage was declared acute. The whole city was reported dependent on community kitchens for meager meals.

Striking policemen were said to have ignored appeals for return to duty, after walking out in protest over appointment of a new high official.

The capital was said to be without gas or coal and with electric current available only from 10:30 p. m. until midnight.

"More and more the face of the French capital is changing as it is being converted into a city close to the front," another Berlin broadcast said. "The whole of Paris is walking or bicycling to work because the last traffic means now has ceased functioning.

"Gas service stopped Thursday, so the population now is getting its food from community kitchens. Barges carrying coal to Paris on the Seine are being attacked by enemy planes, or become the prey of saboteurs."

Japs Say We Are Stronger, They'll Win

LONDON, Aug. 17 (AP)—The Tokyo radio quoted a Jap army spokesman today as saying American air power in the Pacific is triple that of the Japanese.

"Nevertheless," he added, "we still feel confident victory will be ours."

LONDON, Aug. 17 (AP)—Supplied with guns and ammunition dropped by Allied planes, Frenchmen are in armed revolt against the Nazis throughout Haute Savoie Province in southeast France.

Street fighting has broken out in the German bastion of Toulouse, where French Partisans have demanded surrender.

Irun, Spain, and Geneva dispatches give this picture of the growing revolt:

About 1000 German troops, last organized resistance group in the Saleve district of Haute Savoie, have taken positions in Annemasse in an effort to ward off French forces.

A 39-man Nazi garrison at St. Gingolph, 30 miles northeast of Annemasse, surrendered when the French, armed with light artillery, mortars and machine guns, rooted the Germans from a hotel.

Partisans have occupied the Pyrenees railway towns of Cloron and Mauleon. Heavy fighting is in progress around Pau and Tarbes.

Nearly 10,000 Partisans from the Mediterranean foothills are moving east toward the Riviera to join Allied forces.

Fires can be seen on Mt. Saleve in the Haute Savoie just outside Geneva. Just before munight Allied planes dropped new supplies to feed the battle. Supply gliders were said to have landed in the French Jura mountains late yesterday.

Village after village was liberated during the afternoon.

Preparations for the battle which began yesterday were inaugurated last Thursday when messengers were said to have brought special instructions from Allied headquarters.

Some 13,000 Partisans surrounded Annecy. About 400 men captured the bridge of Caille on the highway to Geneva, establishing control of the entire route.

Reds Smash at Nazi Front Near Warsaw

By DANIEL DE LUCE

MOSCOW, Aug. 17 (AP)—The Russians smashed back today with hundreds of field guns at the narrow wedge driven by Nazi tanks and infantry into Ossow, seven miles northeast of Warsaw, in the first Soviet setback since the start of the summer offensive.

The Army newspaper Red Star said the Nazis were under severe pressure after losing 68 tanks and suffering several thousand casualties in a two-day counterattack from the Praga district, just opposite Warsaw on the Vistula's East bank.

This and other Red Army successes elsewhere on the long eastern front balanced the withdrawal from Ossow.

Soviet forces west of the Vistula, south of Warsaw, smashed into the city of Sandominerz in the battle to expand a bridgehead that threatens to outflank the Polish capital and imperil the Nazi defenses of German Silesia.

Russian troops in Estonia captured 70 additional places in the drive beyond Lake Pskov toward the Baltic Sea.

Hurling in large groups of infantry and tanks north and northwest of Siauliai in Lithuania, the Germans also mounted a large counterblow there. A Russian war bulletin, however, announced the Nazis were repelled.

Reich, Japan to Be Occupied, Says FD

By HOWARD FLIEGER

WASHINGTON, Aug. 17 (AP)—President Roosevelt returned to Washington today from a 15,000-mile war trip into the Pacific to declare that Allied armies will drive in and occupy Germany and Japan even should resistance collapse short of enemy borders.

It was the first definite assertion that Germany and Japan will not be able to use the Allies' own war goal—unconditional surrender—to keep our forces out of their homelands.

This time, the President said, Germany will not escape the military occupation which she dodged by armistice in 1918.

Mr. Roosevelt made the statement to a news conference aboard his special train as it approached Washington at a time when Allied forces were pushing ashore in powerful new landings on the southern coast of France.

The President—back in Washington after a 35-day absence that took him to Hawaii and the Aleutians, where his ship skirted within 900 miles of Japanese territory—planned to discuss his Pacific tour as soon as possible with military leaders and Secretary of State Hull.

He also will meet promptly with congressional leaders, he said, but does not intend to make a formal report to Congress.

Tanned by the sun and sea air, he appeared in jovial spirits despite the five weeks of travel, joked with the newsmen and laughed at statements that some sources read political implications into his journey. There was nothing political in it, he said.

Mr. Roosevelt said he knew nothing of internal troubles in Germany that can make us feel sure the German war machine will blow up early. We hope there will be more trouble in Germany, he said, but that may turn out to be wishful thinking.

He said there is an interesting psychology study not only of the German people but of their military command—a characteristic to throw up the sponge when their borders are menaced because they don't want Germany overrun. They quit before we got in the last time, he pointed out, but they won't be spared invasion this time.

If we let them quit, he added, then the next generation will be told Germany won the war.

The Chief Executive also said that Japan must be sealed off from the peace-loving world until she proves herself willing and able to live with peaceful countries.

It's 7th and LAST Day of Heat Wave

The Boston Weather Bureau predicted today that the record-breaking heat wave will vanish in New England tomorrow "because we will be getting into a different air mass."

That reassuring forecast was given as the sizzling spell went into the seventh consecutive day with every likelihood that the maximum for the date, 96 in 1912, will be surpassed.

Scattered thunder showers were foreseen for this afternoon but they will give only temporary relief.

Considerable cloudiness tomorrow was counted on to drive the temperature back to normal and "much cooler" weather will prevail late Friday, the bureau forecast.

Farmers and victory gardeners, scanning the sky anxiously for signs of rain, were told there was little chance for sufficient rainfall to save their crops.

No heavy rainfall was expected to accompany the end of the record-shattering heat wave which threatened destruction of $10,000,000 worth of crops.

The humidity, which hit a sticky high of 84 per cent at midnight, dropped to a more comfortable 54 at 10:30 a. m. It continued to decline as the mercury steadily rose toward the middle 90's.

N.Y. Man Drowns On Roof in Storm

NEW YORK, Aug. 17 (AP)

A man was drowned on the roof of a building early today after a violent thunder storm and downpour, causing two other deaths and disrupting subway service.

Alex Nimmo, 54, lost his life when he attempted to clear a drain on the roof of a building of which he was superintendent. The suction of the water pulled his arm into the drain and forced ihs hea dunder water.

Shortage of Ice Grips Hub, Other Cities Send Supplies

Harried ice companies fought today to end a serious shortage of ice in the Greater Boston area caused by an increase in consumption of nearly 25 per cent as a result of the heat wave.

Ice is being trucked into Boston from such distant points as Cape Cod, Worcester, Pittsfield, Nashua, N. H., Lowell, Lawrence and Portsmouth, N. H.

The Boston Ice Co.'s Albany st. plant is turning out 1500 300-pound cakes of ice daily, while the Brighton plant is producing 19 such cakes every 20 minutes.

But at least 100 trucks are parked in each yard waiting to be loaded.

J. Clark Bennett, treasurer of the Metropolitan Co., said one or two cool days would enable the ice companies to catch up on production.

Ice company officials reported it was probable distribution from their plants would be halted at 3 p. m. today in order to maintain a reserve for tomorrow.

The Granite City Ice Co., of Quincy, serving the South Shore, rationed householders to 40 pounds daily.

Demand in that area was reported 30 per cent above normal.

The Weather

LOCAL — Continued hot and humid again today, with afternoon temperatures in the 90's and with scattered afternoon thunder showers. Partly cloudy, with little change in temperature tonight. LUCIEN CARR (CENTER) IN CUSTODY
Charged With Knife Slaying of Instructor

Ex-Bowdoin Youth Held in N.Y. Killing

NEW YORK, Aug. 17—The confessed killer of a down-at-the-heels janitor who once was a college instructor, according to police, Lucien Carr, 19, former Andover Academy and Bowdoin College student, awaited trial for murder here today.

The slain man was David Kammerer, 33, an acquaintance of long standing and a near-derelict who had pressed improper advances upon him, police said Carr told them.

Kammerer, authorities learned, once taugh English and was a physical education instructor at Washington University, St. Louis, where he won a master's degree.

Carr, now a Columbia University student, told police he had met Kammerer in St. Louis, where Carr's family once lived. When they moved to New York, he related, Kammerer followed him.

Monday, between 2 a. m. and 3 a. m., Carr and Kammerer were sitting on a grassy bank below Riverside dr., at the foot of 115th st., when Kammerer, a husky six-footer, made an improper proposal to him, police said the youth stated.

He said there was a fight in which he, weighing but 140 pounds, was getting the worst of it. Carr said he drew a Boy Scout knife and stabbed Kammerer several times, police related.

Then, the police report went on, the youth told how he rolled the body down the bank to the river edge where he loaded Kammerer's pockets with rocks, trussed him with his own belt and pushed him into the stream.

Frantic and exhausted, Carr went to his home in W. 118th st. and confessed to his mother. She called an attorney, who took the student to the district attorney's office.

Later Carr took police to the scene and described the fight. A Coast Guard crew found Kammerer's body yesterday, floating near 108th st.

Last night, in his cell, Carr spent hours reading poetry.

Hull Refutes Dewey Fears

WASHINGTON, Aug. 17 (AP)—Secretary of State Hull said today the Big Four powers do not contemplate coercion of the rest of the world and that "Gov. Dewey can rest assured the fears he expressed in his statement are utterly and completely unfounded."

In a formal statement Hull replied to one issued yesterday by the Republican presidential nominee, in which Dewey expressed fears the four major powers—Britain, Russia, China and the United States—might "coerce" the rest of the world in setting up plans for post-war peace assured by force.

Hull's comment came as proposals for a sort of regionalized responsibility for peace on the part of the Big Four were heard in advance of next week's security talks at the Dumbarton Oaks estate here.

Hull said:

"No arrangement such as described by him (Dewey), which would involve a military alliance of the four major nations permanently to coerce the rest of the world, is contemplated or has ever been contemplated by this government, or, as far as we know, by any of the other governments."

Hull recalled in the Moscow declaration the four nations placed themselves on record as advocating a "general international organization, based on the principle of sovereign equality of all peace-loving states and open to membership of all such states, large and small, for the maintenance of international peace and security."

He emphasized this statement was embodied in the Connally resolution "passed in the Senate by an overwhelming bi-partisan vote of 85 to 5."

Dewey, in his statement yesterday, said it would be the "rankest form of imperialism" to "coerce" smaller nations.

Hull said the Dumbarton Oaks meeting is for the purpose of a discussion among the four signatories of the Moscow declaration as to the most feasible and desirable methods of establishing the kind of organization envisaged in that declaration and in the Senate resolution.

He emphasized that the conference is to be a preliminary to similar discussions and an early conference among all the United Nations and other peace-loving countries, large and small.

"Any reports to the contrary," Hull asserted, "are absolutely without foundation in fact."

Her Operation Was Real Estate

CHICAGO, Aug. 17 (INS)—William Paseka, 41, explained today how his romance happened to go on the rocks.

He took a huge bouquet to Michael Reese hospital for his girl friend to whom he had advanced $1500 for an operation. To his surprise, he was told she was not there and never had been.

Police arrested Mrs. Helene Catanezzo, 30, who told Asst. State's Atty. Julius Sherwin she had taken the money because "I've always wanted the finer things of life."

"Oh, you bought fine clothes with the money?" Sherwin inquired.

"No, I bought a saloon," she said.

Pool Contaminated By Meanest Vandals

Vandals who flooded the Hawes Brook swimming pool in South Norwood with contaminated water were sought by police today while town officials moved to clean the pool, an estimated four day job.

More than 300 children were deprived of swimming privileges during the season's worst heat wave when a sluice gate was forced open and oily water poured in from a brook.

U. S. Holds 4 Reds Who Shun Russia

SEATTLE, Aug. 17 (AP)—An international drama in which the Russian consul general purportedly failed to get four deserters back aboard their ship, from the custody of U. S. immigration authorities, has been reported here.

The Post-Intelligencer says the United States Government refused to surrender two Russian officers and two seamen.

Raphael P. Bonham confirmed that the four are in custody, but said no demand for them had been made by Russian officials. He said the four said they did not want to return to Russia.

Consul General Andrei E. Vassiliev and his vice-consul came here from San Francisco Aug. 7, to seek U. S. apprehension of the quartet and their return to the ship.

In a futile appeal to them to return, after learning they were in custody, the paper said, the consul general suggested the death penalty for desertion "might" be waived. The men refused.

The newspaper said 25 per cent of the complement of the ship had deserted, and the captain and all but six members of the crew were confined aboard other ships en return to Russia, with officers stripped of rank.

The Post-Intelligencer said the four men had been under surveillance since disappearance of a political commissar from another ship.

Florence Nazis Shoot Italians

ROME, Aug. 17 (AP)—Official reports today from the Italian front said Germans turned tank guns against Italian civilians and police in a section of Florence still under German control yesterday. Several were reported killed.

Patriots coming through the lines told of the reign of terror and said the food situation was grave.

The bloody business of trying to nudge the Germans out of Florence without a pitched battle proceeded for the 14th day.

The Allied military government already controls the city's main architectural treasures. A few blocks away Partisans and Fascists are fighting it out from windows, housetops and in narrow alleys.

WORCESTER SOLDIER KILLED

WASHINGTON, Aug. 17 (AP)—The War Department announced today that S-Sgt. Edward J. Thompson of Worcester, Mass., previously reported wounded, had been killed in the Mediterranean area. His mother, Mrs. Mary Thompson, was listed as next of kin.

Robots Kill Many Shoppers, Buckingham Again Damaged

LONDON, Aug. 17 (AP)—Rescue squads removed dead from the debris of houses and shops, from wrecked buses and streets today after one of the heaviest nights of flying bombs in two weeks.

The attacks were resumed at dawn as rescue work continued. For several hours last night the Nazis sent waves of robots across the channel.

One robot fell on the busy cross streets of a South England town at shopping time. The bomb killed a number of shoppers and in under the wreckage of a bus.

In another town women in a shopping line rushed to a narrow alley when a flying bomb plunged toward them. The bomb struck a wall and they were buried in the wreckage.

Flying bombs have blown out windows at Buckingham Palace for the second time and have damaged two other landmarks—Dr. Samuel Johnson's house and Butchers' Hall, it was disclosed today.

The King and the remainder of the royal family were absent when a bomb fell.

Gliding into a tall ash tree, the robot exploded. The blast tore out palace window frames, seared the gardens and ruined the tennis court.

Gandhi, Jinnah Talk Partition

BOMBAY, India, Aug. 7 (AP)—Mohandas K. Gandhi and Mahomed Ali Jinnah, India's political leaders, meet Saturday to discuss partitioning India into separate Hindu and Moslem states.

Their conference, the first in five years, may turn out to be the most important event in two centuries of Indian history.

The conference is believed unlikely to produce a solution of the Hindu-Moslem problem in detail. But it may result in a "treaty" on broad principles for division of the country. It is expected such a treaty would be endorsed by Gandhi's all-India Congress party and the Moslem League of which Jinnah is president.

Jinnah is known to want a separate Moslem state which would control its own defense, finances and communications like any sovereign state.

Jinnah's demands go beyond what Gandhi already has said he is prepared to offer.

Gandhi's prime object in approaching Jinnah is to secure his co-operation in the formation of a coalition government to replace immediately the present central government.

Yank Quartet Capture 264

LONDON, Aug. 17 (AP)—A nephew of Baron von Richthofen, leading German ace of the last war, was captured with 563 other enemy troops at a radar station in Brittany by two American officers and two unarmed civilians, it was announced today.

He is Freisherr von Richthofen, aide to Lt. Huber Schmitz, commander of the station. The station was taken intact.

Col. Eric T. Bradley of Mystic, Ct., headed the American capters who flew to inspect the station. At the gates they found 550 Nazi troops and 14 officers arguing with three French Maquis who were demanding their surrender, now that they were by-passed by Gen. Patton's sweep.

The Germans surrendered after amoviolike discussion over a bottle of brandy in which they were assured treatment as regular prisoners. Theey had refused to surrender to the French because they werenot regular troops.

Bradley, in civil life, was a Wall Street banker. With him were Maj. Carl B. Lindstrand, West Chester, Pa., and two technical observers, Dr. Guy Stever of Corning, N. Y., and Bennett Archambault, Great Falls, Mont.

Rich Family In Court Row

MIAMI, Fla., Aug. 17 (AP)—A petition for a curator and guardian for an 83-year-old ailing millionaire, R. T. Daniel, Sr., has brought forth a picture of a wealthy family's life with charges of incompetence, wrongful enrichment and playboy mismanagement freely interspersed in the testimony.

R. T., Jr., eldest son who brought the court action, complained that his brother Samuel enriched himself and prejudiced the father against him and got more of everything except whippings. He declared the elder Daniel was a prisoner of designing persons.

Daniel, Sr., denied he was a prisoner or needed a guardian, and asserted the major part of his former wife's fortune was dissipated by mismanagement of R. T., Jr., whom he termed a playboy and black sheep.

LIVES ALONE IN HOTEL

Partly paralyzed and living alone at his closed 64-room Seminole Hotel in midtown Miami, Daniel kicked, swung his arms, laughed and joked at a bedside court session called by Circuit Judge Ross Williams.

"I signed two leases last week," he said, and wrote his name five times to prove he could do it.

R. T., Jr., who had described his father as a cruel man who beat his children and animals and once had a butting goat made into a rug, was himself pictured as a gun-toting, drinking young man who broke the glass out of office doors several times and had a fist fight with the manager of a family property.

TELLS $94,000 GIFTS

Declaring his father "never gave me so much as a mill," R. T., Jr., introduced a statement showing the elder Daniel recently distributed $94,000 cash, with Samuel's family getting $41,000, another brother, William, and his wife $26,000, and brothers and sisters of the father the remainder.

Samuel testified that R. T., Jr., bought himself new automobiles costing as much as $4500 with their mother's $1,000,000 divorce settlement, and picked out used $600 or cheaper cars for Samuel.

William hasn't said a word publicly since the hearing started.

French Women Nab 20 Jerries

WITH ALLIED FORCES IN WESTERN FRANCE (INS)—Four French women drivers in their first action with Gen. Jacques Le Clerc's armored forces returned to their own lines with a total of 20 Nazi prisoners.

The women were driving down the local roads in jeeps in the wake of armored thrusts which had left Kraut pockets behind.

The biggest bag fell to Madame Jacques Cassinol, a jeep driver, who saw one Jerry in a ditch by the roadside.

"I called to him to come out and surrender," she explained. He did. Then—and I was amazed—13 others emerged from behind the hedge. I told them to throw down their arms and place their hands above their heads.

"They marched ahead of the jeep, three miles back to our headquarters."

It has taken some time for the French public to get used to seeing French soldiers again.

Kathleen Kennedy Comforts Parents

Kathleen Kennedy, who saw her brother, Lt. Joseph P. Kennedy, Jr., shortly before he took off on his fatal air mission, today was back home to bring comfort to her bereaved parents at their Hyannis summer home.

The internationally known Boston beauty, who last May became Lady Hartington, wife of the heir of the Duke of Devonshire, flew home by Army transport plane to New York and came on to Boston by passenger air line. She was met by her brother, Lt. John F. Kennedy, decorated Navy hero, who drove her to Hyannis.

Lady Hartington

It was the first homecoming for Kathleen since her marriage in London, May 6, which her brother Joseph attended.

Surmises have been made that he was experimenting on a new defense against the German robot bomb when his plane exploded. Kathleen arrived home in her American Red Cross uniform. She is expected to spend several weeks with her parents before returning to England.

Spy Trial Note Hits Jews, Reds

WASHINGTON, Aug. 17 (AP)—A letter advocating "burying the Jews here and driving the Communists into the Pacific and Atlantic oceans, through civil war if necessary," and signed with the name of a defendant in the mass sedition trial, was introduced in evidence.

The letter, signed with the name of Frank W. Clark, chairman of the National Liberty party, said that was one of the things the party stood for.

It was one of more than 160 exhibits finally admitted by Justice Edward C. Eicher after several days of argument. The defense had contended that their seizure, in a Federal Bureau of Investigation raid on German American Bund headquarters in Los Angeles, was illegal.

Quiz 'Peeping Toms' In McGrath Murder

Two middle-aged Norwell brothers, arrested by Hanover police as "peeping Toms," today were under State Police questioning in the murder of 10-year-old Francis McGrath.

One of the brothers, 52, was questioned in connection with the McGrath case many weeks ago and released.

Mother's Gifts to Soldier Coming Back—He's Dead

One of these days, a sad mother will receive a package returned from overseas to her—scissors, fingernail clipper, Boy Scout knife, watch straps—all unclaimed.

These were the last homely little wishes of PFC Robert Bachar, 29, of Glenburnie rd., West Roxbury, before he was killed in action July 26 in France.

PFC Bacher

Mrs. Steven Bacher, who has had more than her share of the grief of war, received the telegram telling of her son's death soon after she had sent the things he wanted.

"I was born in Czechoslovakia, and after the Nazis came there I never again heard from my mother and sister. Robert fought for his own country, and also with a deep feeling in his heart for the sorrowful people of my mother country," said Mrs. Bachar.

After 3½ years of service including the invasions of North Africa and Sicily, Bachar, a member of the first draft, looked forward to the day when his 9th Division Artillery band would play victory music through the streets of Berlin.

His last words ever written were to his mother: "The Russians are certainly doing very well on their front and we aren't doing badly ourselves. It should be finished soon!"

Girl-Trapped Nazi Returned to Army

Led into an FBI trap by an 18-year-old Back Bay girl whom he dated after meeting her at Carson Beach, Heinz Jacob, 23, escaped German prisoner of war, was turned over to the Army today for disciplinary action after five days of freedom.

The young prisoner, a fluent linguist who speaks German, English, Italian and French, offered no resistance as FBI agents grabbed him when he arrived on the Common to keep his appointment with the girl. He was arrested at the spot they had agreed to meet—in front of the Honor Roll of Boston men who gave their lives in World War I.

The girl's identity was not disclosed, but the FBI said her tip to her employer, James F. Woods of the Crosby Steam Gauge & Valve Co. of Charlestown, ended Jacob's liberty in Boston where, since Sunday, he has been bathing at Boston beaches by day and sleeping on the Common nights.

Boston police were not called into the case, which was handled so secretly by the FBI, Mr. Woods and the girl, that few of the 100 girls with whom she works at the Charlestown plant were aware of her identity. The night manager of the company said the girl probably was on vacation when she met the war prisoner at the beach Monday. Being 18, he said, under the law she would have to be a day worker.

The undoing of Jacob, former private in the Hermann Goering division who was captured in Tunisia, was when he showed his new-found girl friend a Boston newspaper with his picture, and a story reporting he had been identified as the assailant of a 50-year-old Barre woman. He excitedly denied the printed accusation.

Mother of Six WACs Joins Up

FT. DES MOINES, Ia. (INS)—Mrs. Michael P. Tyler of Baltimore, Md., 45-year-old mother of six members of the Women's Army Corps, began her basic training as a WAC private at Fort Des Moines, making her family's war effort "all out."

Pvt. Tyler had twin sons who were killed in action with the Marine Corps and she also had three brothers and a sister in the armed forces.

Jackie Krumholtz Dies of Leukemia

SPRINGFIELD, O., Aug. 17 (AP) — Jackie Krumholtz, four-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Krumholtz, who had been suffering from acute lympathic leucemia since mid-July and whose case had attracted nation-wide attention, is dead.

Seven blood transfusions were given in an effort to save the child's life. Penicillin was also used.

Maine Battles 40 Forest Fires

AUGUSTA, Me., Aug. 17—With more than 10,000 acres of timberland already blackened by flame, firemen, soldiers, Seabees and volunteers today battled nearly a score of fires throughout Maine, where woodlands again are barred to fishermen.

At least 40 fires have broken out within a week, according to Forest Commr. Raymond E. Rendall who reported thousands of cords of piled pulpwood also had been consumed by flame.

A week-old blaze at Eastbrook has ravaged 3600 acres, while 2530 more acres have been destroyed at Amherset. Other big blazes still are burning through 1000 acres at Canada Falls dam, Seboomook, and along a 22-mile stretch between Linneus and Haynesville.

DOWN ¼, ½, ¾ after 12, 18 or 24 selling days go the prices on merchandise that doesn't sell quickly—but prices are so low, believe it or not, most everything sells before the first markdown. However, what remains is given away to charitable institutions after 30 selling days. That's the plan, ladies and gentlemen, that keeps goods moving—coming in—and going out—MILLIONS OF DOLLARS WORTH YEARLY.

U. S. Eyes Vatican For Peace Moves

WASHINGTON, Aug. 17 (INS)—A series of diplomatic moves indicated today the United States Government is strengthening its representation at the Vatican to be on the alert for any startling or unexpected developments in the climactic phase of the European war.

With diplomatic representatives in residence from 40 countries, including Germany, Japan and the Axis satellites, the Vatican is the world's outstanding market place for international information. It is known as the listening post of the world.

Before the fall of Rome, the United States was represented by only one officer, Harold H. Tittmann, whose title was "assistant to the personal representative of the President to his Holiness the Pope."

Two weeks after the fall of Rome, the President requested his personal representative, Myron C. Taylor, to return to the Vatican as quickly as possible.

It is now expected that he will remain in Rome for an indefinite period. Taylor has just left the United States, taking a fine house in Rome, apparently expecting to occupy it permanently.

Clayton May Boss War Goods Sales

WASHINGTON, Aug. 17 (AP)—Legislation laying down methods for selling many billions of dollars worth of surplus war products and plants which made them was called up for final touches by the House today.

A two-year term for an official to direct the vast enterprise is provided in the measure, and the man in line for it is William L. Clayton, Houston, Tex., cotton exporter, who has been handling the job on a temporary basis.

Both Republicans and Democrats, during the general debate, praised Clayton. Rep. Bender (R.) of Ohio said that others mentioned unofficially for the great merchandising task include Harry Hopkins, presidential adviser; Maury Maverick, head of the Smaller War Plants Corp., and Vice President Henry A. Wallace.

Some changes are likely in the surplus property bill before it goes to the Senate. Rep. Herter (R.) of Massachusetts drew up an amendment requiring proceeds of surplus property sales to be applied to the national debt rather than channeled into the Treasury's general fund.

In another phase of the reconversion program, War Mobilizer James F. Byrnes urged the House Ways and Means Committee to establish a nation-wide formula of up to $20 a week for a maximum of 26 weeks as unemployment compensation. The states should continue to administer the program, thereby satisfying states rights advocates, Byrnes said.

School Heads Wonder About 25,000 Pupils

A total of 25,000 Boston youngsters of high school age have a problem to decide today, and so do Boston school authorities.

This number, now working in factories, stores and farms, must decide whether to stick to their lucrative war jobs or return to their school books. Authorities have the problem of what preparations to make for the coming school year.

Charge Big Deal In Black Liquor

NEW YORK, Aug. 17 (AP)—Indictment of Thomas Gorman, 43, former husband of Natalie Price Guggenheim and one-time angel of Broadway shows, on 43 counts charging sales of liquor in excess of ceiling prices and at a profit of more than $1,000,000, was announced today by U. S. Atty. James B. M. McNally.

Thomas Gorman

McNally opened a sealed indictment, handed up in Federal court July 17 and specifically charging Gorman made 80 sales of whisky—60,441 cases—at a total of $2,253,054.

The indictment was opened a few hours after U. S. Internal Revenue Collector Joseph P. Marcella filed a lien representing what he said was $701,258 in assessed but unpaid taxes for 1943.

Gorman, sought by the FBI since May 23, was described by McNally as "the largest individual black market liquor operator yet known in the United States."

40,000 at Farewell Esplanade Concert

Breaking all attendance records, the final Esplanade concert of the 1944 season presented a scene that would have caused plenty of eyebrow-lifting among the social mighty that hold diamond horseshoe seats at the Metropolitan Opera House.

There were no diamond tiaras, no low-backed gowns and none of the males wore tails. But 40,000 persons—most of them wearing sports shirts or gingham and cotton frocks—listened to the lilting strains of Arthur Fiedler's Symphony musicians, who shed their coats in deference to the heat.

2 Greater Boston Airmen Captured

Two Greater Boston airmen are safe and well in German prison camps, it was disclosed to anxious relatives today.

Lt. John F. Landry of Main st., Stoneham, wrote his mother, Mrs. Josephine Landry of the Stoneham ration board, that he had been captured after bailing out over Germany.

Mrs. Mary Toomey of Chestnut Hill ave., Brighton, received word that her husband, S-Sgt. Paul Toomey, former Boston police officer, is at a German prison camp. A Red Cross message stated he was shot down over Austria on his 19th bombing mission.

2 Quarter-Century Policemen Retired

The men, retired because of physical disabilities, are Sgt. Henry J. Bailey of Lake st., Brighton, a member of the department for 28 years, and Patrolman Leonard J. Delaney of Symmes st., Roslindale, a veteran of 25 years service.

Ask Customers Save Paper Bags

Revealing a critical shortage in paper bags, Malcolm McCabe, secretary of the Massachusetts Retail Grocers' Ass'n, today appealed to store operators and customers to co-operate in conserving supplies on hand and aid waste paper salvage.

McCabe suggested grocery clerks ask customers, "Will you help us save a bag?", also reminding them to gather all their waste paper for collection through local salvage drives. The shortage of paper bags, he said, will become worse and will remain critical for a long time.

"Massachusetts grocers are proud of the fact that we can sacrifice our paper bags and cartons to the war effort," McCabe said. "We hope customers will understand when we ask them to take a smaller bag and eliminate wrapping on truck deliveries when delivery boxes are used."

Waste paper collections are scheduled Saturday in Marion and Marshfield, on Sunday in Wakefield and Kingston, and Monday in Belmont, Nahant, Provincetown, Ward 1 of Revere, and in Weston. Boston's August drive also will get under way Monday.

Hub Marine in Human Chain Helps to Seal Japs in Cave

The man on the flying trapeze had nothing on Felix P. Peter, jr., a. 1c., USN, of Tyler st., South End, who teamed up with two Marines in an impromptu aerial act to blast a Jap-held cave on Saipan with high explosive charges.

The Marines were members of an engineering unit while Peter was serving with them as a corpsman, according to dispatches from the Marianas Islands today relating their feat.

They were balked tempararily by a cave in a cliff 30 feet above their heads, but solved that problem by working their way through heavy sniper fire 10 feet above the cave entrance.

With Peter as anchor man, they formed a human chani down the cliff side and the Marine on the lower end, dangling head down, hurled several grenades into the cave, then sealed it with high explosives.

Worker Shifts To PAC Scored

WASHINGTON, Aug. 17 (AP)—Former high-salaried government employes, now working for the CIO Political Action Committee (PAC) will figure in the coming investigation of PAC by a special House subcommittee.

Chairman Starnes (D.) of Alabama disclosed today his subcommittee plans to summon an official of the War Manpower Commission to explain why 11 government officials have been released this year to jobs with a "pressure group."

Two of the former government employes, Charlotte Carr, New York director of the PAC, and Mrs. Verda Barnes, director of the PAC women's division, were with the WMC until before their release, Starnes said.

"We want an explanation," Starnes said, "why these high-salaried government officials and others should be allowed to leave for work with a political group, while ordinary citizens are frozen in essential jobs."

Spare Motor Parts Keep Victory Rolling

A thousand tanks and a thousand motor trucks are of no use on the field of battle without replacement parts to keep them in combat.

This was the comment today of Lt.-Col. Whitney Stone, deputy district chief of the Boston Ordnance District, outlining the work done in Normandy by maintenance companies. Spare parts, kept flowing to the fighting fronts, are speeding our mechanized forces to victory, he added.

Scissored Sleep

KANSAS CITY, Aug. 17 (AP)—Two policemen who hurried to answer Raymond M. Horn's call were invited to go frog hunting.

For three nights, Horn told them, something—he thinks it's a tree frog—has kept him awake.

"It's a loud whispering sound," he added. "It seems as if someone is all over the backyard at once whispering through a microphone 'scissors, scissors, scissors!'"

Police listened. Sure enough, it scissored like mad. Flashlights failed to disclose the creature. The police gave up. Horn went in to another sleepless night.

CAN'T KEEP GRANDMA IN HER CHAIR

She's as Live as a Youngster—Now her Backache is better

Many sufferers relieve nagging backache quickly, once they discover that the real cause of their trouble may be tired kidneys.

The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking the excess acids and waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints a day.

When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

Bostonians Reveal Scenes They Miss

By HUCK FINNEGAN

INFANTRY UNIT, Northern Ireland—This was Boston day, with L st., the Bunker Hill Day parade, the glories of the old 26th Division among the topics of conversation.

There was Lt. Harry H. Robart of Newbury st., Back Bay, who learned on D-Day that his wife, the former Alice O'Neil of Wollaston, had presented him with a daughter Michele. "I call her Miss Mike. I wanted a boy." Robart's other daughter, Elaine, was an actual D-Day baby, but born before the expression was coined.

Robart's mother Sophia has a cosmetics store on the corner of Newbury and Berkeley sts., opposite the Public Garden, and in prewar days Harry worked there.

"Boston to me," he reflected, "means looking down from the State House to Park sq., the Public Garden with the swan boats, Tremont st. the Statler. Gosh, I didn't realize how much I could miss it."

Fifteen years ago Robart graduated from East Boston High. Ten years ago he sold classified ads for the Boston American. Seven years ago he enlisted in the National Guard, the old 26th, and his heart's still there.

TIRED OF TRAVEL

"It's broken up now," he said, sadly. "A pity, too. Good old Boston division. I can recall Col. Paul Kirk on maneuvers stripping to the waist, breaking ice in the lake to wash while others stood overcoated. He was a great leader. Capt. Eddie Butler of Roxbury, Lt. Jerry Doherty—real soldiers!

"Sure hope they revive the 26th after the war. Its members have made fine record for themselves in this war—but not together. Part of the old 182d was with the American Division that went to New Caledonia and Guadalcanal. Some are fighting in France right now with the airborne troops.

"Yeh gimme the old 26th, the Back Bay Business Men's Ass'n, an ice cream soda at Thompson's, a dip at L st., some Chinese food at Ruby Foo's—but most of all, just Boston."

Robart is assistant adjutant in the personnel office — in charge of pay roll, allotments, etc. He's a popular figure, and his popularity is not lessened when he sits down at the piano in the jam sessions.

Nostalgic, too, is Capt. Al Zerofsky, whose parents, Charles and Mary, live at 711 East Fifth st., South Boston, and whose wife, Rita, and son, Mike, 19 mos., live at 172 West Sixth st.

"Take a note," he said, and here was the note: "The thing I want most is to be with my wife and son. Believe me, after this fracas is over, it will take more than a 20-horse team to drag me away from our home in Boston."

(Ed. Note—The note, unfortunately, arrived too late, for Capt. Zerofsky was reported killed in action July 17 in France.)

Zerofsky graduated from South Boston High in '38, ran on the track team. He's been in the Army since '39, in Panama and all and is tired of travel.

LONGS FOR FRANCE

A brother-in-law, Tom Girkout, is a S-Sgt. in England, and left three children with Al's sister Constance. Frank Difert, who married sister Isabelle, is also in the Army, so there aren't many men around the Zerofsky menage.

"I'd love to be swimming at Malibu with Rita and young Mike right now," he pined. "Bet it's nice and warm there."

"One more Bunker Hill Day parade I missed," bewailed S-Sgt. Johnny Rea, 206 Bunker Hill st., Charlestown. "I wish we could get to France. The quicker we go over, the quicker we'll get back to the States."

Rea is only 20 but already has made a reputation as a soldier. He's the son of Johnny Rea, who campaigned in France with the 101st in the last war.

"He's running for Representative," said John, Jr., proudly, showing a picture of his father in uniform. A striking figure, too. "He chums around with Danny Coughlin and Tom Walsh. Everybody in the American knows Danny."

Rea's father has been chief marshal of the Bunker Hill Day parade, and this year was chairman of the celebration committee. Young Rea graduated from Charlestown High in Feb. '42 and [illegible] to get across the Channel. "We couldn't make it on D-Day," he said, "but I'm hoping we're the first division to reach Paris." Young Johnny wants to get home, do a little celebrating, then talk seriously with Dorothy Nover of Green st.

In the hut with Rea are PFC Henry Steadman, 21, of 141 Broadway, Wakefield, and PFC George Costello, 23, of 27 King ave., Weymouth.

Steadman is a tall, friendly chap who married Mary Baril of Wakefield. They have a son Henry, 7 months old. Steadman pitched and ran at English High and proved he hadn't lost little of his skill by winning the mile in the regiment's Organization Day here recently. "Won it by 200 yards," said Rea.

Steadman worked in Filene's stock dept., liked the Buddies' Club on Boston Common, liked L st. ("too cold for swimming here"), would like to get to France in a hurry so he can hurry home to wife and infant.

Costello is a young giant of 225 pounds, who made a reputation as a boxer around Boston before the war, and who has added to it since joining the Army. In civilian days he whipped Manuel Baptiste and Pat Devine at the Arena; as a soldier he was runner-up in the heavyweight championships at Camp Grant, Ill.

"Watch him in the Paris championships," warns Rea, his overseas manager.

After the war? Costello plans to go to college—either Antioch or Black Mountain, N. C. "I'd like to be a union organizer," he said. But first he has something to settle with Rita McGourty of Dorchester. "Sailor, beware."

Keep an eye on these boys. They and their division will be in the headlines before summer wanes. They're well-trained. They're eager to cross the Channel, then recross the Atlantic. They want to be home for Christmas.

Nimitz to Give Japs Non-Stop Smashing

By AL DOPKING

GUAM, Aug. 11 (delayed) (AP)—Adm. Nimitz, promising Japan a dose of powerhouse tactics, emphasized today on his first visit to reconquered Guam that the great fleets under Adms. Spruance and Halsey were ready to wage nonstop war against the Japs. He praised the home front for providing the necessary tools.

(Adm. Raymond A. Spruance commands the mighty Fifth Fleet and William F. Halsey leads the Third Fleet.)

The Marianas, said Nimitz, will be the strategic springboard, adding while one fleet team is striking, the other can be planning new blows. He said seizure of Saipan, Tinian and Guam provided excellent bases "to move in various directions we have in mind."

"We believe in powerhouse tactic. We carry along all we have. We want what we undertake to go through. We have not reached the stage where we can hold anything back," he said.

He foresaw in the favorable European situation that reinforcements from that area were not too far in future.

"But we cannot wait," he said.

Nimitz inspected battlefields in the Marianas with Spruance, Marine Lt. Gen. Holland M. Smith, commander of fleet marine forces in the Pacific, and other high officers.

As the party was leaving a 77th Division command post near Mt. Santa Rosa, Guam, machine-gun and rifle fire rattled through the brush and a bullet whined over one of the 13 cars trailing Nimitz, escorted by two half-tracks loaded with marines.

The admiral rode on unconcerned.

Nimitz expressed admiration for the marines and doughboys for their rapid conquest.

"We have a schedule and we are interested in getting this war won quickly. The way to beat the Jap is to keep on his tail." He said Saipan, Tinian and Guam were large enough to mount many troops and their facilities would be developed to carry the war to the Japs.

Philippine Area Hit by Bombers

GENERAL HEADQUARTERS, Southwest Pacific, Aug. 17 (AP)—Allied bombers struck new blows, reported today, at enemy-held islands ringing the Philippines and at the Philippines themselves.

Halmahera was raided Tuesday, and Mindanao's principal port, Davao, two nights earlier.

Planes pounded Truk with 57 tons of bombs Sunday and hit Ponape, Wotje, Maloelap, Mili and Nauru island Sunday and Monday.

The Pescadores islands, between Formosa and the China coast, were bombed for the first time Wednesday. The planes struck at night at the Mako naval base, 400 miles north of the Philippines. They also hit Takao harbor, southwestern Formosa, for the second day in a row.

In the Halmahera raid, 11 grounded enemy planes were destroyed or seriously damaged, and a small freighter and several coastal vessels were sunk. Two bomb hits were scored on a 3000-ton freighter-transport.

At Truk, the bombers shot down one of nine intercepting enemy planes and damaged three. All Allied bombers returned.

dence to show the Germans were massing for counter attacks.

Thunderbolts intercepted and destroyed one convoy of 30 enemy motor trucks towing field guns toward the battle area, leaving at least 42 of the vehicles in flames and the others damaged.

On the contrary there were signs the Germans nervously were preparing for an extension of Allied landings.

Crews of British Bostons and Baltimores reported fires early today in Nice harbor (which the Germans already have said they were evacuating). These apparently were from German demolitions near the Italian border.

Enemy transport columns also were seen moving out of Genoa, the historic port of northern Italy where there were heavy Allied air-invasion bombings. These were going westward, apparently to protect Nazi-held Italy behind the Gothic line.

Smaller scale enemy movements also were seen between Nice and Imperia, on the coast just inside the Italian border.

Other fires were reported roaring along the Italian Riviera.

"Mummy, where's the wall that Daddy said he'd built around our house?"

LAST NIGHT SHE HEARD THEM . . . those murmured words of Daddy's, that sent his little daughter out bright and early, looking for a wall.

It was "Daddy's time" when it happened . . . the half hour they always spent together, before Mummy hurried her to bed.

Her cardboard fort stood beneath the elm tree, the last rays of sunshine glinting through the branches . . . together they bent eagerly above it, four busy hands piling a stout stockade of twigs . . .

"Build the wall higher, Daddy," Mary commanded, "to keep the naughty Injuns out!"

Then Mummy called, and Daddy swung her up, with a hug that almost hurt . . . and a whisper, barely caught, as he carried her upstairs—"Thank God I've built a strong wall round this house!"

AND SO HE HAD—a high, strong wall. Invisible though it be to his daughter's eyes, a carefully planned life insurance program, to protect his family from want.

As so many independence-loving New Englanders have done for over half a century, he took his problem to a long established New England company, the Boston Mutual, where he could count on neighborly understanding and advice.

Here protection is readily available, no matter how modest your income, on a weekly, quarterly, semi-annual, or annual basis. Today this company serves over 364,000 New England families.

The War We Are Losing

AMERICA IS LOSING a terrible war, losing it slowly and almost surely, dangerously and disastrously — unnecessarily and inexcusably.

Not the war in Europe, of course, or the war in the Pacific, or any part of the great war on land, in the skies and on and under the sea.

America is doing very well in all of its military campaigns.

We are winning the European War, the Pacific War, the land, sea and sky war, most surely and quite swiftly.

The war we are losing is one which, if finally lost, will destroy us as surely as if we had suffered defeat on any or all of our far-flung battlefronts—the war against JUVENILE DELINQUENCY.

Why do we not put as much energy and enthusiasm, as much determination and will power, as much ingenuity and resourcefulness, as much initiative and idealism into this war for the salvation of American youth as we put into the war for the defeat of our military enemies?

We are not fighting an EFFECTIVE war against juvenile delinquency.

We are not fighting an INTELLIGENT war against it.

We are, in virtual fact, not really fighting juvenile delinquency at all, but are merely letting it run its malignant course like a contagious disease, that has reached epidemic proportions trusting that it will run itself out after the usual manner of such afflictions.

But juvenile delinquency is not a disease of the flesh.

It is a disease of the mind, the conscience, the spirit.

It is destructive of something more important than health, or even than life itself.

It destroys the moral consciousness of youth, destroys self-respect.

It turns the natural energies and talents of youth, which are instinctively wholesome and constructive, into evil ways and practices.

WHO HAS the responsibility for this? Not the youth himself, certainly.

It is a national and community responsibility, a social and human responsibility—above all, a patriotic AMERICAN responsibility.

In an article written exclusively for International News Service, Katharine F. Lenroot, chief of the Children's Bureau of the U. S. Department of Labor, said:

"Wherever and whenever a community makes up its collective mind to do something about its young people, and moves into action, it GETS RESULTS."

The basic cause of juvenile delinquency, she implied, is that not enough of our American communities are making up their collective minds.

"The boys and girls in your neighborhood," she urges, "need something to do and some place to go."

They only find evil things to do and evil places to go when family neglect, community neglect and national neglect permit and compel it.

"The over-all task," Miss Lenroot concludes, "is to strengthen the home in every way possible, for the primary responsibility for the care and protection of our boys and girls must rest within its four walls."

Since this is our responsibility, what is the price of our failure to accept and exercise it?

Boys and girls, left to their own devices, seek pleasure and recreation where they can find it.

Soon they are disfigured and distorted morally and spiritually.

Soon they are unclean in body, mind and soul.

What kind of fathers and mothers are such children going to be?

What kind of citizens do we expect them to be?

WASHINGTON, Aug. 17—My poetry corner, which is redolent of the best features of Kelley and Sheats—I mean Shelley and Keats—has obtained this offering as a sort of Tinker - to - Evers - to-Chance play.

It was conceived and executed by Miss Sigrid Arne of the Associated Press. But Miss Arne did not send it to me directly. She employed a middleman, or intermediary.

The only reason I can think of for her detouring is that Miss Arne, who is a very hot-looking number, wishes to keep as far distant from me as possible. She has exhibited this amazing inclination ever since the United Nations Relief and Rehabilitation Conference in Atlantic City when I tried to talk her into the idea that only two people at a time should look at the Atlantic ocean.

Later Miss Arne conceded I might be right, but added she would feel safer if it was from opposite sides of the ocean.

Anyway, I received a call yesterday from Mr. Charles Campbell, first secretary of the British Embassy—also a veteran of the UNRRA Conference—who spoke as follows.

"Sigrid Arne just telephoned me from New York. She has a lovely piece of poetry for you, but she feels that any dealings with you had better be through a second or non-wolfing party. Consequently, she has delegated the task to me."

Miss Arne, whose work is reminiscent of the early lake poets, is also a deep student of international affairs. Her poem - a thing of sheer breath-taking beauty - follows:

"It is going to take lots of patient
And understanding work
To keep together the United Nations."

I HAVE just come into possession of a very instructive booklet put out by the Political Action Committee of the CIO. It tells PAC members how to obtain free tune on the radio.

The book begins by informing members that radio stations belong to broadcasting companies—which may be news to the broadcasting companies for all I know. But—it adds—the air belongs to the people.

Personally, I think the latter statement is pretty far-fetched and I shudder to think what may happen when Sidney Hillman hears about it. However, the booklet continues:

"We, the people, have the exclusive right to the air and we, through our elected government, can grant the privilege to broadcasters to use our air, for as long as they serve us well."

The tome then goes on to tell PAC members that they can demand free time on the radio and make it stick. It adds:

"It is quite possible that some radio manager will refuse to give you free time and will refuse to sell you time. If that happens, here is what you do:

"You ask the station manager to give you his refusal and his reason for refusing in writing.

"Copy that letter and attach it to your explanations why you think his refusal is unfair.

"Send copies of his and your letter to: James Lawrence Fly, chairman, Federal Communications Commission, Washington, D. C.

"Send copies to the CIO Political Action Committee for our attention and action.

"Let the station manager know how widely you are distributing your protest of his unfair treatment. Let your local newspaper know about it.

"If there are other radio stations in your community, approach them for time while your protest is publicized."

This worthy advice is followed by this significant statement:

"If enough union leaders ask for time on the radio and protest vigorously enough when they are denied, there would soon be no need for protesting."

THE PAC suggests that a good way to hold radio audiences and get the message across is to put on plays and skits. A few themes are suggested as follows:

"GI Joe and CIO."
"Labor Views the Peace."
"Why We Are for F. D. R."

ANOTHER PIECE of advice is this

"Don't wait for the station manager to come to you. He won't do it. You go to him. Let him know whom you represent."

I'll bet he'd guess it anyway.

I WAS TERRIBLY worried for a while today because I thought the OPA had put new ceiling prices on boiled-down soap stocks. But away down toward the end of a lengthy release the OPA reassured me as follows

"The policies of boiled-down soap stock now being sold remain unchanged, since this amendment merely converts the general maximum price regulation prices into specific amounts.

"For boiled-down soap stock derived from mixed fools, today's amendment provides that the ceiling price for such mixtures will be the legal ceiling price for the lowest-priced fats in the mixed products."

I guess that's putting your lowest-priced foots into it!

But of these it shall be said,
This dog watched beside a bed
Day and night unwearily,
Watched within a curtained room,
Where no sunbeam broke the gloom
Round the sick and dreary.
Other dogs in thymy dew
Tracked the hares and followed through
Sunny moor or meadow.
This dog only crept and crept,
Next to lingual cheek that dept,
Sharing in the shadow.
—ELIZABETH BARRETT BROWNING

ABOVE is an excerpt from the poem, "To Flush, My Dog." No greater tribute to the love and loyalty of a dog has ever been written. Flush, a cocker spaniel, remained at the side of his mistress during her long illness. His capacity for sympathy was remarkable. His efforts to cheer her up by playing pranks and doing clownish tricks were touching . . . Our nomination for the most nearly perfect silent wedding kiss of 1944 is the intense osculation indulged in by Aileen Pringle and James Cain as indicated in news photos. Aileen is shown as really going to town in responding to the good old-fashioned smack placed on her lips by Lucky Jim. None of that extended cheek stuff for Aileen. Of course, that is not surprising, as the new Mrs. Cain is the original "it" girl. We trust all young couples contemplating matrimony will study the Pringle-Cain wedding kiss and profit by its example.

BITTER CAMPAIGNS: Practically all our bitter campaigns have been suspended for the duration. Why gripe about minor difficulties in days like these? However, as the happy day marking the cessation of hostilities approaches, we have been dusting off our bitter campaign file and preparing for resumption of the fight to eliminate some of the pet peeves of our subscribers. For example, Bitter Campaign 982, against bus and street car seat sprawlers. Fellows who take up nine-tenths of a seat and also put their arms over the back of it, encroaching on the territory of the seat behind. Also, Bitter Campaign 976, opposing the cigarette goop—the person who carelessly tosses the hand carrying a lighted cigarette, blows smoke around at fountain lunch counters and leaves lip-smeared butts on saucers.

SIDELIGHTS: An informed three Pittsburgh sisters all married men named John. Very unusual . . . A Pennsylvania subscriber, who is four feet ten inches tall, says she has "two wonderful sons both over six feet tall." That's fine. I suppose when these boys kiss their mother they pick her up in their arms . . . Writes a Donora, Pa., customer: "Stan Musial of the Cards comes from our town. Bob Coulson, former Dodger outfielder, is also a Donora boy. What other town of 15,000 population or less can boast of two such great ballplayers?"

BRIEFLY: My policy is to try to be a good and patient neighbor. But that neighbor who at two in the morning, has his radio tuned as high as a public address system at a football stadium is getting me down. I think I shall give him an earphone radio for Christmas . . . As for remarkable infants, perhaps they do not all live in Chicago. Writes a Long Beach, Cal., client: "Our 21-months-old daughter fell from a three-story window and suffered no ill effects. She was not hurt at all. She was conscious all the time and did not even cry."

Hollywood . . . . By Louella O. Parsons

HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 17—Bet Jules and Philip Epstein and Jerry Wald will be surprised when Republic comes out with a story by them called "The Calendar Girl." Well, this is how it all happened: Back in 1937 these three, who had not yet achieved movie fame at Warner's Studio, sold a story to Republic called "Romance by Request." The price paid was $1500. William Saul points out that today it would cost $75,000.

Jennifer Jones

Now "Romance by Request" will be produced as "The Calendar Girl." The exploitation plan and idea is novel. According to Saul, millions are spent every year on calendars decorated with the faces of pretty girls. Republic will have famous artists sketch these girls to use on 3,000,000 calendars. Well, "Cover Girl" did all right.

* * *

THE MOVIE HERO of the hour, Alexander Knox's next role will be received with interest. I am reliably informed that he will have the male lead in James Hilton's novel, "And Now Goodbye," which is one of the most valuable properties Columbia owns. After his magnificent performance in Darryl Zanuck's picture, "Wilson," everyone will be waiting to see if he can repeat himself. Of course, he can. Jennifer Jones did in "Since You Went Away." Everyone thought she would always be "Bernadette," but she proved she is not a one-picture girl and we are sure Knox is not a one-picture gent.

IF JACKIE PALEY, pretty daughter of millionaire Jay Paley, wants to go to Broadway Mike Todd will see that she gets a good part. Jackie was one of the 20th Century-Fox girls who put on "Stage Door" at the Bliss-Hayden Theater. She was so good that everyone who was there gave her a big hand. Another gal who clicked in a big way was Jean Wallace (Mrs. Franchot Tone). Franchot told me: "I have turned into a stage door Johnny for my wife and I like it." Sandra Poloway, who was once Darryl Zanuck's secretary, and who is a beautiful girl, also gave a good account of herself, as did several of the other youngsters from the 20th lot.

* * *

MARGERY SHARP wrote such a gay, screenable comedy in "Cluny Brown" that I don't wonder Twentieth-Century-Fox planked down the biggest price ever paid for a novel to get it. Already readers and fans are starting casting suggestions for the title role of the tall, rangy English lass who becomes a parlor maid in a nobleman's home and creates her own brand of havoc. I want to get in my own plug right here—I think Jennifer Jones would be perfect. Of course, 20th and David Selznick still have to come to some sort of an agreement about their suit over Jennifer before anyone can start casting her in Fox movies.

SNAPSHOTS OF HOLLYWOOD COLLECTED AT RANDOM: Ava Gardner was taking Artie Shaw's entire interest at Ciro's; Frances Faye, Danny Kaye's cousin, and a well-known singer herself, is marrying Sam Farkas, business man, next month; Lt. John Carroll at Charley Foy's with Marjorie Stewart, once rumored as the next Mrs. Fidler; Maria Montez goes to New York as soon as her picture with Jon Hall is finished. She has been trying to go overseas, hoping she might see Jean Pierre Aumont; Sylvia Sidney and John Brahm, director, are becoming an item.

HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 17—You and I are going to the movies again. It doesn't matter what picture, for soon after it starts unreeling there will be a familiar sequence, and you will say to yourself — that's where I came in.

Judy Garland

"Just Stick With Me, Kid." Gene Kelly is a hoofer whose big ambition is to play the Palace. (Gee, what would the movies have ever done without the Palace?) One day when he is playing in the Bird, Theater in Oshkosh he meets Judy Garland, who is playing the same theater with a talking dog act. Judy is demure and Gene is a fresh guy so she falls in love with him but he is all business. He says: "Kid, with my talent and my looks and my name and my connections and you, we would make a sensational double act." She doesn't stop to wonder that if he's got everything, what does he want with her.

They break in the act in Jersey City, and after the performance the agent comes backstage with a Broadway producer who tells Judy that she is terrific and that he wants her for his show, only he can't use Gene. There is Gene with the talent and the looks and the name and the connections, and he can't get in Broadway except as a ticket taker.

Judy, of course, doesn't want to leave Gene but before she can say anything, Pal Gene learns of it, turns good guy, and says to Judy: "I have a great offer to do a single and I'm taking it." Whereupon he proceeds to insult Judy and leaves. Judy becomes a big star and hits the front pages of every newspaper after the opening night (which happens only in pictures) and Gene ends up in a bar playing the piano for beers.

The next reels are devoted to watching Judy sing their song (what a spot to bring back an oldie like 'What'll I Do') and to watching Gene's beard grow.

Finally, Jack Oakie, who is a friend of theirs from way back, finds Gene singing "What'll I Do," gets him a shave and drags him to the Palace where Judy is still singing "What'll I Do." Can we stop here?

Deb Bride-to-Be

By BETTY ALDEN

THIS DATE will always be a memorable one for pretty Jeanne LaCroix for it marks the official announcement of her engagement to Lt. Bigelow Crocker, Jr., by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Morris LaCroix of Chestnut Hill.

The bride-to-be, a deb of '41-'42, graduated from Beaver and is a senior at Smith. Her fiance, son of the Bigelow Crockers of Fitchburg joined the Army Air Corps in March '43, received his commission at Stockton Field last February and pilots a Flying Fortress. He has recently been home from his former base in Texas and is now in Nebraska.

Two attractive brides and sisters-in-law, Mrs. W. Russell Peabody and Mrs. Spottiswoode W. Randolph, were radiant as they danced with their Navy officer husbands in the cool Copley-Plaza.

Phyllis Randolph Peabody who hails from Virginia and is the bride of a Yankee, accented her lovely blonde hair with a black and cream lace print caught at the side with a big black taffeta bow. Her brother's wife, the former Elise Smith of Cambridge, sported a dainty black horsehair cocktail hat banked in mauve to match the orchid on the shoulder of her gray and white striped silk dress.

Dining with her husband at a breeze swept Sheraton Roof table, vivacious Mrs. Albert Goodhue, Jr., of Marblehead wore a honey background print with navy accessories.

Heading for home and a good book in the garden, Mrs. Richard Wood was glimpsed catching the train for Longwood after her daily stint at British War Relief Society uptown branch of which she is a guiding light.

The big elms and maples around the pool and awnings over the porch provided shady spots for spectating at the ladies' invitation tennis tournament which went into its second day at Longwood Cricket Club yesterday. On the porch, Mrs. John Palfrey and Mrs. Edward Rice, mothers of famous tennis stars (Sarah Palfrey Cooke and Virginia Rice Johnson) watched with interest as they sipped iced lemonade.

Mrs. Palfrey's daughter, Mrs. Franklin Dexter, her little girl and the child of Elizabeth Palfrey Fullerton of Aberdeen, Scotland, were with her. Mrs. Hazel Wightman, dean of American women's tennis, kept track of the score on the big chart she carried around and kept a motherly eye on the half dozen tennis stars who are her house guests for the week.

A cute threesome alternately taking a dip in the pool and spectating in bathing suits were subdebs Marie Prince of Hamilton, Wendy Grey and Ruth Howe of Brookline. Mr. Henderson Inches, whose home near the club is full of tennis guests, watched from a shady corner.

JVA to Attend Ball Game Free

Now comes the big annual thrill for the Junior Victory Army.

It's the free Red Sox-Cleveland baseball game at Fenway Park next Tuesday, Aug. 22.

It represents the Red Sox management's yearly tribute to the JVA for salvage work and other Home Front activities and this year is a special recognition of the month's campaign against ragweed, enemy of hay fever and asthma sufferers.

Arrangements have been made through City Recreation Director William M. Mullen and JVA headquarters.

The only cost will be the 10-cent tax required of everybody by Uncle Sam.

You must enter at the Lansdowns st. entrance of Fenway Park and show your JVA insignia pin OR red, white and blue membership card. Don't give the gateman your membership card. Simply show it to him. Gate will open at 1:30 p. m. Game begins at 3 p. m.

Along with Junior Army patriots, boys and girls who patronize Director Mullen's playgrounds, parks and beaches will be on hand. Many of them are affiliated with the JVA. They will have special identification cards issued by Mullen's staff.

To join the JVA, send your name, age and full address to Junior Victory Army, Box 228, Boston, Mass. If in addition to enlistment, you want the JVA insignia pin and membership card, enclose a 10-cent coin, well wrapped in your letter.

Read the next JVA story in Friday's Daily Record.

Two Plumbers On Keith Screen

By DON WARD

They're a pair of plumbers now—all rigged out with wrenches, torches, baggy overalls and everything.

The plumbing profession as a whole might say it is hardly a faithful representation, yet they will laugh at Abbott and Costello too in their first film comedy in more than a year, "In Society," now to be seen on the screen of the Keith Memorial.

Yep, the two boys are plumbers. At least that is what they say to the fancy-schmancy dowager who has hired them to come on over and fix that leak.

But, you guessed it! There is a very swank costume ball in progress—and the two comics are mistaken for guests masquerading as plumbers. Well, you knew Abbott and Costello.

And certainly you must know that they get all tangled up with the hoity-toity; that their professional pluguglyness is in violent collision with all the hot and cold running footmen, to say nothing of nice ladies and silky gentlement.

Won't spoil the gags for you. They've got to be seen.

Among those present in the delirium are Marion Hutton, blonde singing sister of the jumping Betty; Kirby Grant, Anne Gillis, Arthur Treacher, Thomas Gomez, Chaarles Coleman and Will Osborne and his band.

Needless to add, there are some bright tunes and clever singing. Jean Yarbrough, who has been through all this before, directed "In Society" with his customary understanding of what "makes funny."

Even Gas Coupons Affected by Hot Spell

OPA agents disclosed today that ink, used to write registration numbers on the face of gas ration coupons, influenced by the abnormal heat, makes brown marks on the back of the ration tickets.

It's embarrassing, too, because OPA had advised all gasoline station attendants that one way to detect bogus coupons was to look for brown marks on the back.

Girls Adore New Corduroy

Fashion

COLLEGE GIRLS adore pinwale cotton corduroy because of its good looks, sturdiness and washability . . . and next year's campuses throughout the country . . . will see a marked increase in corduroy fashions. This pretty pinafore . . . worn by CBS actress Sybil Trent . . . is blue with red peasant embroidery on the bib . . . red trimming around the armholes to match the edging on the peasant blouse. Cute and smart.—R.M

Foot Comfort Important

Beauty

By RUTH MUGGLEBEE

YOU MAY BE SINGED with the scorching heat in this unprecedented wave of torrid temperatures . . . your temper may be fired with race-horse nervousness . . . you may be on edge because of the wracking discomfort of the unrelenting mercury . . . BUT . . . your life must go on. And we must do the things that are necessary to our daily existence.

You're probably not interested in pretty words about facial beauty in your perplexing pursuit to keep cool . . . and we don't blame you . . . but you SHOULD be concerned with your foot comfort. And, right now . . . as we shake an ample supply of protective special foot formula powder into our own clogs to practice what we preach . . . that's all we can think of counselling you on, also.

Uppermost in your mind right now should be how to keep your tootsies free from that hot, burning ache . . . and relieved from tiring perspiration and chafing of the soles. For come heat or high water . . . we must pound the hot pavements even though we're trudging along in open-toe sandals. In dog days like these . . . the base of your under pinnings takes an awful beating. And there's no worse feeling than to be foot-sore and weary . . . even though the shoes are roomy.

ONE IN A MILLION

If you can sit all day in steamer-chair relaxation, you're one in a million. But that isn't the ordained scheme of things for most of us . . . who must pedal our way as we do our chores whatever they may be. And if walk we must . . . let us walk in comfort. Let the feet be cool and at ease if the rest of us isn't in this equatorial withering of our dispositions.

This special foot powder . . . an excellent deodorant for the feet, too . . . will relieve the tension and fatigue . . . and help to make us feel more at peace with our routine. The Indians may have gone barefooted . . . but we can't . . . and therefore, we must protect our pedal-pushers for the days ahead.

It has been wisely said that when your feet are cool and comfortable . . . the rest of your body similarly responds to the relief of such protection. And a daily application of this grand foot powder will help you keep up your spirits as well as your chin.

For the name of this foot reliever of burning and aching, phone the Beauty Dept., LIBerty 4000, or write me, care of the Boston Evening American, inclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

TOOTSIES BOTHER YOU? Protect foot comfort with a delightfully refreshing and cooling special formula foot powder to relieve the burning ache and tiredness that comes from pounding the hot pavements . . . and feel as fresh and look as charming as 20th Century Actress Mary Anderson in her open-toe clogs.

Pack a Picnic Basket For Day of Real Fun

By MARTHA LEE

PICK a nook for a picnic, then pack a basket for that day of fun—because picnics are fun. But even fun comes in degrees and must be sustained if it is to ring true. So before slamming the front door, insure your good time by checking all the good time "musts"—the food, equipment, and entertainment aides.

The trickiest of a good picnic is always the lunch. If the sandwiches are tasty, the drinks refreshing and the condiments of the "just right" variety, you're on up on a perfect day already.

PICNIC FARE

Let's start with the sandwiches—without which a picnic just isn't. Fillings must be carefully selected, must be the kind that can stand up under heat without refrigeration. Anything that will sour, get soggy, or dry up is out.

A perfect combination is peanut butter with sliced fresh tomato and onion. And when made with enriched white bread it's one of the most nutritious treats to be found—the peanut butter is one of the richest sources of protein, vitamin B complex and easily digested fats.

Baked bean and ketchup sandwiches, cream cheese and jelly, salads of all sorts and luxurious cold cuts are all delicious sandwich possibilities.

MEAT LOAVES

Meat loaves are fine to have on hand for picnic sandwich filling. A meat loaf which is so good when piping hot from the oven loses none of that goodness when it becomes cold.

It is easy to slice a firm, fine textured meat loaf into neat and even portions to go between slices of white or whole-wheat bread. A crisp leaf of lettuce or a thin slice of cheese can be placed next to it or it can be spread with mustard.

Or, if you are picnic-bound you can wrap up the meat loaf just as it comes from the oven, and carry it with you in the pan in which it was baked. Hot foods are relished at outdoor meals just as much as at home. With bread and butter sandwiches, potato chips, radishes, pickles and assortment of little cakes, bananas or apples or other fruits, you will have as well-balanced and nutritious a meal as any you could serve at home.

HORSERADISH MEAT LOAF

2 lbs. ground beef
1 lb. ground pork
½ cup grated onion
¼ cup horseradish
1 tsp. mustard
2 eggs
1 cup cracker crumbs
1 tsp. salt
⅛ tsp. pepper
½ cup tomato catsup

Mix all ingredients except the catsup. Pack into well-greased loaf pan—or two small loaf pans. Cover the top with the tomato catsup. Bake in a moderate oven (350 deg. F.) for 1 hour.

BEVERAGES

Beverages are more or less a matter of personal preference. Some like them hot, some like them cold. So take a consensus of opinion and fill the thermos bottle accordingly. Orange or lemonade, iced or hot coffee or tea, fruit punch—let every man be his own judge. Whole tomatoes and juicy fruits are excellent thirst quenchers, so bring along a generous supply of these, too.

My Day . . . . By Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt

HYDE PARK, Wednesday—I think all of us rejoice that the Senate has rescinded a very unfortunately worded provision of the Servicemen's Voting Act. Instead of giving soldiers who may have an opportunity to vote a chance for impartial information, it resulted in keeping all but certain specified papers and materials from them.

The motive behind the original action of Sen. Taft and the Congress was, of course, entirely correct. No voters should be so restricted that they do not get all possible information before exercising their franchise, and the information certainly should be impartial.

TWO THINGS are especially interesting in Sen. Taft's statement. "The War Department," one part of it reads, "has been so unreasonable that many persons have suggested to me that the course pursued by the War Department and its morale division is deliberately intended to discredit Congress in order to affect the election."

I had thought that Secretary Stimson's long service to the nation would establish the certainty in everyone's mind that the War Department, under him, would do nothing which was not strictly ethical and impartial.

THE NEXT PARAGRAPH is even more interesting. "This doubt about the War Department's impartiality is not new. Its representatives co-operated 100 per cent with the extreme New Dealers and the CIO Political Action Committee in support of a clearly unconstitutional federal ballot carrying no names except the candidates for President."

That ballot, of course, was only to be used, as I understand it, when state ballots were not available. Therefore, if you cannot vote on a state ballot, it is apparently preferable that you should not vote at all, even though it would seem that it might be fairly important to have as many as possible vote on who shall head the nation.

I have no way of knowing what the nation wants, and no desire except that the nation shall have as complete an opportunity as possible for expressing itself.

The Correct Thing

By ELINOR AMES

THE OFFICE TELEPHONE is for business, not personal calls. If you have to make or receive a personal call during business hours, keep it as brief as possible.

Bride Solves Dilemma

DEAR MRS. BEECKMAN—A friend of mine was married recently. Her father, who is a very shy man, refused to give her in marriage. She has two brothers in the service, and although they got leave and were at her wedding, she refused to have the oldest one give her in marriage. So she walked into the church alone, her maid of honor walking in front of her. Did she do the proper thing? I would appreciate your comments. B. G.

Yes, since this was obviously the procedure the bride preferred, it was proper for her to do as she chose fitting to do in what must have been to her a disappointing point of view on her father's part.

Advice to Teen Agers

By BETTINA BEDWELL

THE way the teen-age girl dresses is pretty much the same be she fat, normal or thin, and I think it is too bad that the girl who runs to fat doesn't take the same pains dressing herself, and avoid the same difficulties, as the stout woman has to do.

Just because you are young doesn't mean you are going to look good in a gathered bunchy dress when you are a heavyweight. There are a lot of teen-age girls who run to fat, and all of you can look ever so much nicer if you will stick to the kind of clothes silhouettes that give you a taller, more slender look.

You can wear the popular princess dress, if it is fitted right, but the dirndl isn't so good on you. Don't wear blousy, sloppy waists, and don't go in for skirts that make you look wider than you are. Stay away from plaids, and if you wear stripes, see to it they run up and down, and not 'round and 'round.

Red Sox Lack Punch of Real Champion in Test

By JACK CONWAY

IF YOU ARE a historian and wish to have the record clear, you may make an official notation that the Red Sox lost their chance to win an American League pennant when Junior Stephens of the Browns knocked one of Yank Terry's pitches out of the ball park with three men on the bases. That was the key play of the season as far as Joe Cronin's club was concerned.

The Red Sox series with the Detroit Tigers, which opened yesterday, would have had more interest if the Sox had won the final game of their series with the Browns. They would then have been within reach of the league's leaders and could have been given a chance to win the pennant.

Luke Sewell

Going back beyond the Terry pitch it can be argued that the real reason the Sox did not win the series from the Browns was because they did not have the pitching services of Tex Hughson, with a record of 18 won and five lost, who has been called by the Navy. One cannot pass over the loss of Hughson lightly. If he had been given a five-run lead on the Browns, he would probably have held it.

The Sox, however, have got some good breaks since Hughson has left the club. Emmett O'Neill has scored his fourth straight pitching victory.

Rex Cecil, former Coast League pitcher, stepped off a plane after a trans-continental trip to win for the Sox in the first game of the Sunday double-header.

The club has also displayed its usual batting punch.

Lacks Extra Drive

CHAMPIONSHIPS are won by that extra drive. The Braves of 1914 had it when they came from last place in July to win a National League pennant and then to defeat the Athletics in four straight.

Babe Ruth had it when at bat in critical ball games. The Babe was always at his best when the big chips were down.

Walter Hagen had it in golf. So did Francis Ouimet when as a 20-year old boy he defeated Vardon and Ray, great British professionals, at The Country Club in Brookline.

Bill Tilden had it for years in tennis. He would always do the impossible.

Jack Dempsey had it when he climbed back into the ring after having been knocked into the press row by Louis Firpo.

Jack Sharkey had it when he stopped Harry Wills, the man Jack Dempsey and Gene Tunney refused to meet.

Eddie Arcaro, "Red" Pollard, Johnny Longden and George Woolf, crack jockeys, have proved repeatedly they had it in big stake races.

Joe Cronin has proved he had it when he has gone to bat when a hit meant victory.

The Red Sox club as a whole did not have it in the St. Louis series. If it had, it would have won at least three out of four games and possibly four straight.

Champs Reach Heights

THE AMERICAN fighting men who stormed the beachheads of France had it more than any champions in the history of the world. They did not stop to think about what they may have lacked in equipment and aid. They went ahead and gained their objectives.

That is the way with true champions. They laugh at natural handicaps. When the big day comes, they do better than they ever did before, and they win with a new record to their credit.

Champions triumph despite injuries and all kinds of reverses. That is why they are champions.

In sports, second string men have often filled the gaps better than the so-called regulars. They have been carried to the top when surrounded by players who wouldn't be beaten.

The Red Sox have not such a club. It has required its full strength to do its best, and when it has been without some of its power it has floundered. Championships were never won that way.

Barring unforeseen reverses it should be an all St. Louis world's series. The Cards are already in, while the Browns have sufficient lead to hold off the rush of their rivals unless they blow wide open.

Junior Stephens has proved he is a handy man to have around when things get a little rough and a smashing hit is needed to turn defeat into victory.

Dave Smukler Looks Terrific

One great worry has been erased from Herb Kopf's mind and that's the fact that his Boston Yanks are going to have a fullback who will hold his own with any in the league—and that gent is 225-pound Dave Smukler, well remembered by grid fans for his feats of a mid night with Temple and the Philadelphia Eagles.

The brilliant Yanks mentor knows that any club without a fullback is at the mercy of every defense, but with power straight ahead as a threat, defenses can't take the liberties which would bottle up open plays and a passing offense. And Smukler is the lad who will keep opposing N. L. defenses in line.

He reported at Dean Academy yesterday weighing 225 pounds, which is his playing weight, and he looked terrific in the first workout. His plunging is well enough known but it was his passing and kicking which proved so gratifying to Coach Herb Kopf.

Dave proved that his three-year stay in the Army hasn't affected him to any great extent. Smukler himself was elated with the way things went during the initial session and he felt that it would only take him a week to get his timing and co-ordination back.

Red Sox Daily Tale; They Missed the Bus Again

By BILL GRIMES

Joe Cronin should be showing signs of shellshock after what he has gone through at Fenway Park in the past two days. On Tuesday the Red Sox appeared to be coasting home to an easy victory over the St. Louis Browns. They had a four-run lead going into the sixth inning. Then Junior Stephens came up with the bases loaded and promptly proceeded to unload them by slapping Yank Terry's first pitch into the left field screen. And before the inning was over Gene Moore scored what proved to be the winning run.

Yesterday, the Red Sox were going along smoothly. They had slipped over a couple of runs early in the game. It looked like Rex Cecil had what it takes to beat the Tigers. But, in the sixth, the Tigers scored one run on Dick Wakefield's two-bagger and Paul Richards' single. Although they were leading by only one run, the Red Sox seemed to be all right going into the seventh. But, it was anything but a lucky seventh for them.

Manager Steve O'Neil will send the great Dizzy Trout after the Red Sox this afternoon. Trout didn't do so well in Philadelphia as a relief hurler on Tuesday, for the A's nicked him for two hits in one third of an inning.

Joe Bowman will be Cronin's selection for mound duty.

JOE CRONIN SEEKING THE CAUSE—It may be the heat. It could be the whammy. Then, again gremlins might have crept into the Red Sox machine to render it impotent and ineffective as recent daily scores and defeats would indicate. Then, too, Manager Joe may have his binoculars trained on the domicile of Lady Luck, looking for a smile.

Dorothy Kendrick May Win Half-Mile

By MIKE GILLOOLY

It's going to take a powerful lot of swimming to stop Dorothy Kendrick of the Metropolitan Swimming Club from capturing the Mayor Maurice J. Tobin Trophy in the New England A. A. A. U senior 880-yard free style championship one of the features of the Record-American-Sunday Advertiser-Boston Park Dept. meet to be held Sunday afternoon at Carson Beach, South Boston.

This Wellesley miss has reached the peak of her form and right now she shapes up as the "one to beat" in this half-mile marathon.

Last Saturday Miss Kendrick had a grand tune-up for this test at Leonard Pool, Winchester, where she stroped her way to the Mass. State 440-yard championship in the amazing time of 6:33.7 seconds. Her mark easily clipped the time of the winner of the men's division over the same distance as she installed herself as the favorite in this 880-yard swim.

Miss Kendrick will be facing her stiffest opposition from Louise Sherlock, the ace of the Olneyville Boys' Club auxiliary, Providence, R. I. This Rhode Island mermaid popped out of Leonard Pool last week with a pair of first places, including the NEAAAU junior backstroke crown, and it's only the distance that keeps her out of co-favoritism with Miss Kendrick.

WINTHROP GIRL ENTERS

Other outstanding swimmers who will be very much in the running include Catherine Sullivan of Winthrop; Marion Senior of the Wanskuck Boys Club auxiliary and Barbara Milliken of Olneyville.

The South Boston Boys' Club will, virtually be the home team with five entries. Martin Nee and Tom Butler in the 50-meters free-style for 14-15-year-olds with Butler doubling up in the 100-meter breaststroke open; Pete Farragher in the 50-meter for 10-11-year-olds; William Wentworth in the 4-440-yard free style open and 100-meter free style open, and Al Lunns in the 100-meter free style open.

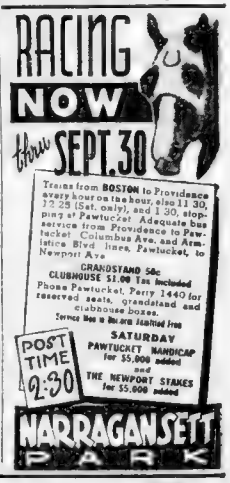
ERRARD TAKES BIG STAKE

Errard, a 4 to 1 shot, won the $10,000 Prairie State Stakes yesterday at Washington Park for two-year-olds. Best Effort was second and Joe's Choice third. The winner, ridden by Otto Grubs, was timed in 1:12 4-5 for the six furlongs and paid $10.80.



Betz-Brough Look Like Court Finalists

As play continues under the scorching sun in the Longwood ladies' invitation tourney, it becomes more apparent with each match that the final will be a preview of the coming nationals—another showdown between "Queen" Pauline Betz and "Crown Princess" Louise Brough.

The two have survived so far and are into the quarters without too much trouble and unless a major upset occurs today the girls are in.

Unlike the Helens' Wills and Jacobs, and Alice Marble who ruled the grass court world unchallanged in their day, Miss Betz is having a tough time dominating her entourage.

She has managed to take only one major tourney this year, the one at Seabright, while Rye went to Miss Brough and Miss Margaret Osborne took the title at Wilmington.

In her only match since coming to Brookline Pauline displayed her prowness by taking Gilda Ciccone, 6-0, 6-0, and looked every bit the ruler although the heat, other than the blazing rays of Old Sol, wasn't on. For Miss Brough, the going was a little tougher. She drew a bye for the first round and then had to meet Patricia Canning Todd, seeded number seven in '42 but out of competition last year. Brough finally took her fellow Californian but she had a good battle every point of the way.

SHIRLEY FRYE MAY HAVE IT

Margaret Osborne and Dodo Bundy, both seeded in the first 10, may very well pull through to upset predictions, but the girl who is being watched most closely is young Shirley Frye. Miss Frye came through twice in two days in two gruelling matches to gain a quarter final berth; the first a three-hour trudge against Kay Winthrop, number one locally and 10 nationally, and then yesterday trimmed Dorothy Head, 11—9, and 6—2. Head had the first set at four love before the young midwesterner slashed through on terrific back hand drives to pull up even and by the time the match was over Miss Frye had the large gallery groggy with her aggressive tactics.

Quarter finals start in the doubles this afternoon and the team of Brough and Osborne, national champions are expected to come through although Pauline Betz and Doris Hart, runners up last year at Forest Hills, are bound to be troublesome.

Ipswich Boy Leads Yale to Slugging Win

NEW HAVEN, Ct., Aug. 17 (AP)—Ed Machaj of Ipswich, Mass., Yale baseball captain, who has had plenty of rave notices as a pitcher, showed today that he could be a hitter also as Yale downed the Camp Thomas Seabees of Davisville, R. I., 9 to 2 with Machaj hitting safely in all his four trips to the plate.

He had two singles, a double and a triple against the pitching of Walt Blydell who allowed seven other Yale hits.

WIDENER'S HORSE WINS

George Widener's Frere Jacques scored a two-length victory over Max Weler's favored British Buddy in the six furlong Paulsboro Purse for Juveniles yesterday at Garden State Park. Miss Lavender took the show.

Frere Jacques, ridden by Doug Dodson, was timed in 1:11 3-5 and paid $7.80.

OFFER REDDICK-CARTER

WEST SPRINGFIELD — Joe Reddick, of Paterson, N. J., and Joe Carter, of Rome, N. Y., a pair of thumping middleweights feature the next boxing show at the West Side Dog track next Monday night.

Both hold a decision over Coley Welch, New England middleweight champion.

Joe DiMaggio To Stay in Army

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 17 (INS)—Reports that Sgt. Joe DiMaggio had been released from the Army and was due to fly back to his civilian job as center fielder for the New York Yankees were termed "entirely unfounded" by Army authorities today.

Queried as to DiMaggio's Army status by Richard V. Haller, International News Service staff correspondent at Pearl Harbor, the Seventh AAF's public relations officer said no application for the former ball player's release had been received.

Tobin Assists in Park Loop Finals

The long awaited Boston Park League finals get under way tonight at the Dorchester Town Field where the Linehan Club from South Boston meets the defending champion Casey Club.

Appropriate ceremonies will open the evening with Mayor Maurice J. Tobin throwing out the first ball and the traditional march to the flagpole.

The Linehans will come to Dorchester confident of taking the champions as the Southie club is one of the two teams in the Park League that holds an edge over the Caseys in the regular season play.

Bill Benson has a smooth working outfit that survived the first two qualifying rounds with no trouble and is bound to give the Caseys plenty of worries before the series comes to an end.

Macks May Decide A. L. Pennant Fight

By Associated Press

Mr. Baseball from Philadelphia may have the last say in the American League pennant race, although Connie Mack's Athletics today were buried in the bottom half of the standings.

The old gent with the scorecard, who recently celebrated his 50th anniversary as a manager, watched the A's put a 4-2 crimp in the Browns last night in the opener of a four-game series.

St. Louis boasted only a 9-7 season edge in games with Philadelphia with six to go. The Mackmen have held Boston even in 14 starts with eight to be played, and lead Detroit 10 to 9 with three to go. Among the contenders, only the New York Yankees had a decided bulge on the A's with 11 out of 17.

RUSS TURNS TRICK

Russ Christopher stopped the Brownies last night for the second time in a row and his fifth straight victory at Jack Kramer's expense. The Brownies' 6½-game lead was not affected but the loss served to flash a yellow warning signal of trouble ahead.

Detroit and New York closed in on second place Boston. The Tigers took the Red Sox into camp, 4-2, on Rudy York's 12th homer with two on in the seventh. The blow spoiled the first big league start of Rookie Rex Cecil from San Diego who stepped out of a California plane to gain a relief decision over St. Louis last Sunday. Rufe Gentry hurled Detroit to its 12th win in its last 15 starts.

New York moved to within a game of second and 7½ of St. Louis on a dramatic ninth-inning homer by Bud Metheny with two on that doomed Cleveland, 11-8.

The Yanks came from behind to tie and a thunder shower threatened to end the game when Metheny poled one into the stands with two out to give Jim Turner the relief verdict over Ray Poat.

Ed Lopat hurled Chicago to a 7-2 victory over Washington, although Johnny Niggeling fanned 11 in eight innings for the losers. Ralph Hodgin extended his hitting streak to 13 games.

NINTH LOSS FOR GIANTS

In the National, St. Louis set a modern record for reaching win No. 80 on the earliest date by shutting out New York, 5-0, behind Fred Schmidt who usually sees duty only as a relief man. Bill Voiselle was the victim as the Giants lost their ninth straight.

Pittsburgh took sole possession of second place when rain washed out its game after two innings and Cincinnati fell before Brooklyn's Curt Davis, 3-1, snapping the Dodgers' 5-game losing streak.

Bill Nicholson became the first National Leaguer and third big leaguer to hit two grand slam homers this season when he walloped No. 27 with the sacks loaded as Chicago thumped Boston, 11-3. Red Lynn took the decision over Nate Andrews who was belted out in one heat.

THEY'LL DO IT EVERY TIME

Joan Fogle Rated Foremost Swimmer

KANSAS CITY, Aug. 16 (AP)—Joan Fogle, pretty brunette from the Indianapolis Riviera Club, is the best all-around swimmer in the United States, say the girls who will match strokes with her in the A. A. U. national championships opening Friday.

Miss Fogle, who describes herself as an "aging veteran" at 16, wears her honors lightly. Defending champion in the 300-meter individual medley, she says she'll probably enter other races but she doesn't know which.

"It doesn't matter much; I don't have any favorite stroke. Maybe I like the medley because you have to use all three—backstroke, breastroke and crawl."

"Don't let Joan's devil-may-care attitude fool you," said Ann Curtis at a practice session here. "She's flippant and says she's tired of it all but she's as tough as they come the second she hits the water. I think she's the best all-around swimmer in the country."

Miss Curtis, who recently bettered the world's 800-meter and 880-yard records, turned to her San Francisco teammates who nodded their agreement.

Tigers Score Three Runs on Only 1 Hit

Rex Cecil didn't have his control in the opening inning and two walks and a blooper by Jimmy Outlaw filled the sacks with two down, but George Metkovich went back and grabbed Mike Higgins' foul.

Rufus Gentry got off to a worse start than Cecil for he opened up passing Culberson and Metkovich and then Bob Johnson, who had been out of the lineup since Sunday with a charlie horse, came through with a timely single which scored "Culby."

Dick Wakefield, the former University of Michigan star who received a fortune for signing a Detroit contract, made his first appearance of the season at Fenway Park . . . It required a great back-handed stop by Bobby Doerr and a nice play by "Catso" Metkovich to retire Paul Richards in the second . . . Joe Orengo has been a handy man for the Tigers.

ROMMEL JOINS EAR-ACHERS

Before the game Ed Rommel, the umpire, went up on the roof of the grandstand and studied the construction of the screen atop the left field wall. Now he knows that it is possible for a ball to disappear from sight, come back on the playing field and still be a home run.

Rex Cecil tied into one of Rufus Gentry's serves in the second and rifled the ball between "Doc" Cramer and Jimmy Outlaw for two bases . . . The three heavy showers before the game didn't break the heat wave by a long shot . . . The humidity mounted with within a degree or so of the saturation point.

Judging from the manner he played Bob Johnson's ball off the wall, Dick Wakefield didn't major in "trig" at Michigan . . . Until the 6th, when Dick Wakefield doubled and Paul Richards singled him home. Cecil had held the Tigers to one hit, Jimmy Outlaw's Texas leaguer.

Rudy York reached into the Red Sox dugout and picked off Leon Culberson's foul in the 4th . . . Over the years, York has improved defensively.

Between innings Win Green and Johnny Orlando fanned Rex Cecil with towels . . . it was very muggy down on the diamond and the humidity was more damaging to the Red Sox pitcher than the Tigers.

Mike Higgins robbed Jim Tabor of a two-bagger by a great stop back of third in the 6th . . . Cecil was called out on strikes in the 6th on a ball which actually drove him back from the plate . . . All Cecil said was "Oh, no" . . . But Rommel must have been called plenty by the players on the Red Sox bench.

The reliable Pete Fox dropped a line drive that gave Rufus Gentry a life to start the 7th round.

TIGERS, 3 RUNS, 1 HIT

The Red Sox put on a play to get Gentry going to third on Eddie Mayo's sacrifice but in the 7th George Metkovich, with plenty of time to get a fore-out, elected to make the play to first base.

Gentry, who isn't a speed merchant, wasn't five feet from second base, when Cecil pitched to Mayo and should have been a dead duck . . . Then, after Jimmy Outlaw had popped to Bobby Doerr, Rudy York parked one in the center field bleachers and Gentry and Cramer scored in front of him . . . So, on one hit, the Tigers made three runs.

Ott Gets Hard

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Manager Mel Ott of the New York Giants today fined Left Fielder Joe Medwick and Shortstop Johnny Kerr $100 each as a result of incidents in Tuesday night's game at Cincinnati. The offenses in both cases were described as failure to hustle.

Medwick was fined for holding the ball long enough for a runner to score on what should have been an easy out at the plate. Kerr failed to cover second on a stolen base and on another occasion was standing on second when a single was rapped through his territory at short.

Harness Pilots Are Suspended

SARATOGA SPRINGS, Aug. 17 (AP)—Five drivers accused of holding their horses in the second race at the Saratoga raceway last Friday were suspended for periods ranging from 10 to 30 days, following hearings yesterday by the New York State Harness Racing Commission.

Henry Myott and Jack Brown were suspended for 30 days, from Aug. 11 to Sept. 11. Frank Safford and Ray Reeves were suspended 14 days until Aug. 25 and Milton Van Auken 10 days until Aug. 21. All were suspended Monday by the presiding judges pending the hearings. The suspensions date from the day of the race.

Frank Wiswall, secretary of the New York State Harness Racing Commission, presided at the hearings. In ordering the suspensions he said evidence indicated the drivers had held their horses to allow Northern Lad to win the race. Northern Lad paid $6.70.
